MCS completes restructuring with curriculum, human resources hires

BY BOB DEMAREE

Two personnel moves approved at Wednesday's Madison School Board meeting marked the completion of administrative restructuring for Madison Consolidated Schools.

Janet McCreary, principal of Deputy Elementary School, has been promoted to the new position of Director of Curriculum, Instruction and Assessment. Shannon Allman was hired to join the district as the new Director of Human Resources.

The transition of McCreary and establishment of the Director of Curriculum position replaces a previous model in which the curriculum role had been absorbed and split between an elementary principal and a secondary principal.

"We're taking it back away from the two principals and making it one position so we can pay more attention to it, and focus on it; focus on academics" said MCS Superintendent Dr. Teresa Brown. She said with the prior model, "it was hard to have alignment K-12, and the new position will really allow us to focus on curriculum instruction and assessment K-12, so that we create a system for our kids."

McCreary, who has been principal at Deputy Elementary since 2015, was hired for her new role effective Dec. 5. Brown said the Deputy position is being posted and a new principal must still be hired. She said McCreary will continue to serve in her role as Deputy principal during the transition, and then fully focus on her new position once a new principal is hired.

Under McCreary's leadership tenure, Deputy has maintained an "A" school grade from the Indiana Department of Education, launched a successful and growing preschool program, was designated as a National Blue Ribbon School in 2021, and was recognized as a Family Friendly School in 2021-2022.

"I have been blessed with an amazing staff throughout my time at Deputy," McCreary said. "We have a unique community inside our building who have worked together for years with our families and have been able to do some great work together. I am forever grateful for the things I have learned and accomplished and I look forward to taking that learning into

Veterans cemetery scheduled for changes

$7.7 million grant awarded

BY BOB DEMAREE

A proposal to expand the Indiana Veterans Memorial Cemetery in Madison has been awarded a $7.7 million grant that will bring massive upgrades and changes to the 23-year-old facility on Madison's hilltop.

Alan Burnham, director of the cemetery, made the announcement at Thursday's Veterans Day service at the Brown Gym in downtown Madison. He said a grant of up to $7,763,108 has been awarded by the Veterans Cemetery Grants Program (VCGP), which is overseen by the Department of Veterans Affairs National Cemetery Association, to the state of Indiana for the expansion.

"There's going to be a lot of exciting changes to the cemetery," said Burnham.

The grant will fund 1,800 pre-placed crypts, 600 columbarium niches, roadway and subsurface drainage improvements, entry feature improvements, an Avenue of Flags, administration building energy efficiency improvements, irrigation pump stations, irrigation mainline,

Madison OKs riverboat docking agreement

5-year deal forms tourism partnership

BY BOB DEMAREE

The City of Madison has entered into a five-year riverboat docking agreement with American Queen Voyages that was approved last week by the Board of Public Works and Safety.

The docking agreement will include updates and enhancements to the city's landing facility at the Port of Madison and will guarantee American Queen Voyages first rights to docking dates and times.

American Queen Voyages will make an initial $25,000 payment for exclusivity rights in 2023 and an additional $25,000 in 2024 with additional impact fee payments through 2027. In return, the city will create a dedicated riverboat landing area that Madison's Economic Development Director Tony Steinhardt III said will be west of the pit ramp that include a 100 foot paved area. He said the city will partner with Visit Madison Inc., the Madison Riverfront Development Committee and others in achieving those improvements.

The docking agreement includes first rights to scheduled dates 24 months in advance while not excluding other companies from docking on any other dates. The agreement also guarantees the company will visit Madison for a minimum of 10 days per calendar year beginning in 2023, but the city's Economic and Redevelopment Director Tony Steinhardt III noted "they're looking at 15 times in 2024. They have interest in trying to leverage our festivals with some docking arrangements and times."

In addition, American Queen Voyages will pay a $750 impact fee from each time that it docks at Madison. There will also be a $1,500 impact fee if they don't dock and meet the minimum requirements.

"It is exciting seeing Madison as an important stop for cruises," said Steinhardt. "We negotiated impact fees for the welcome experience and maintenance and will see a high return in capital from this investment and partnership."

The city will maintain a safe and clear landing for each arrival and will make improvements by American Queen Voyages tour boats like the American Countess (pictured) will make a minimum of 10 stops annually at Madison and contribute to the cost of improving docking facilities at the Port of Madison. The Countess was in town last week.

Jefferson County burn ban rescinded

Rain, snow ends weeks of dry conditions

BY BOB DEMAREE

Jefferson County's monthlong burn ban was lifted Monday morning according to an announcement by Jefferson County Emergency Management director Troy Morgan.

Morgan said the combination of Friday's rain and Saturday's snowfall, along with the colder temperatures, higher humidity and lack of wind created conditions in which "everything came together" to allow the burn ban to be lifted.

The burn ban wasn't just because of the lack of rain during that time but also because "for the biggest part of that time, there was low humidity, high winds, high temperatures" that heightened the dangers of fire, said Morgan. "It was all those conditions together" that created the need for the burn ban that was put into effect Oct. 13 and lifted Monday.

The 1.03 inches of rain and snow recorded over the weekend in Madison is the most precipitation the area has seen in one weekend since early September. The area received only 1.3 inches of precipitation in all of October and only 1.25 inches over the last three weeks of September.

Due to the burn ban lasting a month, Morgan said he was aware "people were getting anxious and upset, and that it was an inconvenience" but it was also necessary for the safety of residents, preservation of property and to assist first responders who have battled numerous wild fires over the last several weeks.

"I appreciate everyone's cooperation," he said.

MPD makes 6 drug arrests in 3 traffic stops

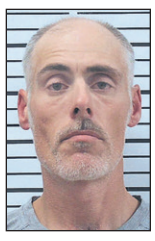
BY THE COURIER STAFF

Traffic stops by Madison Police last Tuesday, Wednesday Saturday led to the arrest of two men and four women on unrelated narcotics charges.

A traffic stop on Milton Street near U.S. 421 on Saturday, led to two narcotics related arrests. Freda Dawn Davis, 47, Madison, and Amy Lynn Watterson, 46, Hanover, were both charged with Possession of Methamphetamine, a Level 3 felony, and Maintaining a Common Nuisance, a Level 6 felony.

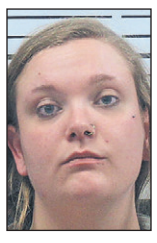
Madison Patrolman Curtis Shelpman executed the traffic stop with assistance from Jefferson County Sheriff's Deputy Laura Pickle and her K9 partner, Kuno, for an open air sniff around the vehicle. Kuno alerted positive for the presence of narcotics and a subsequent search by officers located two ounces of methamphetamine as well as paraphernalia allegedly associated with the use of narcotics. The charges were enhanced due to the large amount of methamphetamine seized.

Alexis Jordan Creech

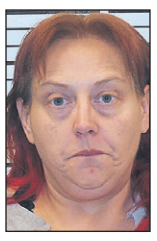


Jason M. Sullivan

Cody W. O'Daniel



Darian Olivia Adams



Freda Dawn Davis

Amy Lynn Watterson

Davis and Watterson were taken into custody without incident and transported to the Jefferson County Jail where they are both being held on $25,000 cash bond.

On Wednesday, a traffic stop at Main and Vine streets led to the arrest of Darian Lynn Adams, 22, Madison, and Cody Wayne Allen O'Daniel, 24, Madison, on drug charges after an investigation led by Patrolman Graham Heffelfinger alleged that both were in possession of narcotics.

Adams, the driver of the vehicle, faces preliminary charges of Possession of Methamphetamine and Possession of a Syringe, both Level 6 felonies; and Possession of Paraphernalia, a Class C misdemeanor.

O'Daniel, the passenger, was charged with Possession of Methamphetamine, a Level 6 felony, along with being arrested on an active warrant from Jennings County, Indiana for Operating without Obtaining a License, a Class A misdemeanor.

Adams and O'Daniel were both lodged in the Jefferson County Jail without bond.

On last Tuesday, a traffic stop on Michigan Road just north of Clifty Drive led to the arrest of Jason Michael Sullivan, 40, Madison, and Alexis Jordan Creech, 23, Madison, after an investigation led by Patrolman Curtis Shelpman and Captain Season Jackson determined that both were in possession of narcotics.

Sullivan, the driver of the vehicle, faces charges of Possession of Methamphetamine, Maintaining a Common Nuisance and Unlawful Possession of a Syringe, all Level 6 felonies; and Possession of Marijuana, a Class B misdemeanor. He was also arrested on an active warrant for Non-Support of a Dependent, a Level 6 felony, in Jennings County, Indiana.

Creech, a passenger in the vehicle, was charged with Possession of Methamphetamine, Possession of a Schedule Drug and Unlawful Possession of a Legend Drug, all Level 6 felonies; and Possession of Marijuana, a Class B misdemeanor.

Sullivan and Creech were both lodged in the Jefferson County Jail with Sullivan held without bond and Creech held on a $1,000 cash bond.

OBITUARIES

Nelson Mathews

Nelson Wayne Mathews, 84, of Vevay, Indiana, died Thursday, Nov. 10, 2022, at his son's residence in Vevay.

He was born on Feb. 17, 1938, in Switzerland County, Indiana, to James Cecil "Petie" and Hazel Louise Ferguson Mathews. He was raised on Mathews Road in Switzerland County and was a 1956 graduate of Vevay High School. He was inducted into the US Army on Sept. 5, 1961, in Louisville. He served in the Vietnam War for one year, six months and 11 days and received the Sharpshooter Rifle M-1 Badge, Marksman Carbine Badge and the Driver and Mechanic Badge with One Bar. He later transferred to the US Army Reserves in Oakland, California, and was honorably discharged with the rank of Specialist 4th Class on Aug. 31, 1967. He married Betty Jean Riley on July 1, 1960, and they had six children. At age 18, he was employed for Barber Grocery in Madison, Indiana, until 1974. He later worked for Schinley Distillery in Lawrenceburg, Indiana, for a year and then worked on the Markland Dam for several years. He was then employed as a machine operator for Kentucky Utilities until retiring in 2000 with 15 years service. He was a member of the Vevay American Legion Post 185 and a lifetime member of the Vevay VFW Post 5396. He was active on the Honor Guard and was a member of the National Rifle Association. He enjoyed farming, hunting, tractor pulling, bird watching and feeding birds and squirrels. He could often be found sitting in his garage, welding or working on farm equipment or chatting with his friends and neighbors.

Survivors include his wife of 62 years of Vevay; his children, Terry Wayne Mathews of Indianapolis, Gerri Lou Liter of Madison and Rodney Lee Mathews, Jack Alan Mathews and Jeanne Kay Harris, all of Vevay; six sisters, Edith Mae Gibbs of Louisville, Bonnie Detraz of Vevay, Phyllis Christman of Bennington, Indiana, Sharon Johnson of Madison, Kathy Scott of Toccoa, Georgia and Linda Ricketts of Edinburgh, Indiana; three brothers, Raymond "Bimbo" Mathews of Madison, Mickey Mathews of Patriot, Indiana and Jim Mathews of Vevay; and seven grandchildren, a great grandchild and numerous nieces, nephews and cousins.

He was preceded in death by his parents; an infant daughter, Jill Aileen Mathews; a brother, Otis Henry Mathews; and a sister, Wanda Sullivan.

Funeral services will be at 11 a.m. on Thursday, Nov. 17, at the Haskell & Morrison Funeral Home in Vevay. Interment with full military rites will be conducted by the Honor Guard of the Vevay American Legion Post 185 and Vevay VFW Post 5396 at the Vevay Cemetery there. Visitation is 4 p.m. to 8 p.m. on Wednesday, Nov. 16, at the funeral home.

Memorial contributions may be made to the Vevay American Legion Post 185 or Vevay VFW Post 5396 through the funeral home or online, www.haskellandmorrison.com.

Gary Rowlett

Gary Rowlett, 74, of Moorefield, Indiana, died Thursday, Nov. 10, 2022, at Norton's Brownsboro Hospital in Louisville, from complications related to cancer.

He was born on Nov. 20, 1947, in Bedford, Kentucky, to Lawrence Raymond Rowlett and Nevada Greene Rowlett. He moved to Switzerland County, Indiana, at age 13 and attended Vevay High School in Vevay, Indiana. He married Margaret Ann Scudder on Oct. 28, 1967, near Moorefield and they had a daughter.

He was employed in the late 1960s by Williard Liter Construction and assisted in installing water lines for Patriot Water Company. He then worked for 42 years at Reliance Electric Company in Madison, Indiana, until his retirement in 2007. He served in the US Army Reserves and was a member of the American Legion Post 185. He and his wife sponsored awards in the Switzerland County 4-H beef program and he served on the Switzerland Soil and Conservation Board. He farmed all of his life, raising tobacco and hay along with registered Simmental cattle. He enjoyed riding his Harley-Davidson motorcycle and made several trips to Sturgis, South Dakota, and the West Coast. He enjoyed hunting, fishing, gardening and visiting neighbors.

Survivors include his wife of 55 years of Moorefield; his daughter, Sherry Rowlett of Martinsburg, West Virginia; a sister, Eileen Moore of Bloomington, Indiana; a brother, Dennis Rowlett of Moorefield; a close friend, Danny Liter, and his "Sunday Morning Breakfast Crew"; and several nieces, nephews and friends.

He was preceded in death by his parents, a niece and several aunts and uncles.

Graveside services were Monday, Nov. 14, 2022, in the Vevay Cemetery in Vevay. Arrangements entrusted to Haskell & Morrison Funeral Home in Vevay.

Memorial contributions may be made to the Moorefield Community Fire Department or Switzerland County Emergency Response Unit through the funeral home or online, www.haskellandmorrison.com.

Joyce Hogg

Joyce Sullivan Hogg, 78, of Charlestown, Indiana, died Tuesday, Nov. 8, 2022, at Clark Memorial Hospital in Jeffersonville, Indiana.

She was born on Sept. 27, 1944, in Henry County, Kentucky, to Tom Sullivan and Susie B. Downey Sullivan and grew up in Trimble County, Kentucky, where she attended Trimble County High School in Bedford, Kentucky. She later lived in Hanover, Indiana, and received her GED from Madison Consolidated High School in Madison, Indiana. She moved to Charlestown where she worked as a custodian for Greater Clark County Schools for 30 years and raised her family. She also worked for the Charlestown Civic Center for 20 years and helped maintain the facility as well as serve as a mentor to the youth of the community. Her compassionate nature also led to her serving as a caregiver for a disabled senior for many years. She was a 13-year survivor of breast cancer, a bingo enthusiast and enjoyed playing Euchre and Yahtzee. She loved spending time with family and friends, especially during the holidays.

Survivors include a daughter, Heather Hogg Curtis of Charlestown; a son Chris Wehner of Charlestown; four brothers, Alvin Sullivan Sr., Buford "Peewee" Sullivan, Kenny Sullivan and Timothy "Timbo" Sullivan, all of Bedford; a sister, Cindy Sullivan Frazier of Bedford; a roommate/caregiver, Tina Mathes of Charlestown; and a granddaughter and many nieces, nephews and close friends.

She was preceded in death by her parents; her stepmother, Stella Sullivan; four brothers, Benny Sullivan, Everett Sullivan, Lucian Sullivan and Tommy Sullivan; and a grandson.

Funeral services will be at 4 p.m. on Saturday, Nov. 19, at Grayson Funeral Home in Charlestown with visitation from noon until the time of services Saturday at the funeral home. Cremation was chosen so there will be no graveside services.

Memorial contributions may be made to www.debra.org for Epidermolysis Bullosa research in memory of Brody Curtis. Online condolences, www.graysonfuneralhome.com.

Thomas "Tom" Rohm

January 4, 1957 - November 7, 2022

Columbus — Thomas James Rohm, 65, of Columbus, passed away unexpectedly Monday, November 7, 2022, at IU Health Bloomington Hospital. Tom was born January 4, 1957, in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, the son of James Roberts and Patty Jo Voyles Rohm.

Tom graduated from Columbus North High School in 1975. He was the captain of the golf team his junior and senior year, led the team in nearly every match, and lettered all 3 years. After high school, he attended Indiana State University for a year before transferring to Indiana University where he became a member of Theta Chi fraternity. Tom's first job was at Harrison Lake Country Club when he was in 7th grade. He spent his career as an engineer at Faurecia, where he worked for over 35 years until 2015. Shortly after, he started his second career as a Global NVH Lead at Katcon, where he was still employed. He also was working at Harrison Lake Country Club at the time of his death.

Tom lived life to the fullest. He was extremely competitive and excelled at everything he did, especially golf. His backpacking trips with his sons, mountain biking, road cycling, basketball, baseball, softball, running, are just a few examples of his athleticism and passion for sports. He was an avid fan of IU basketball. He took pride in his home improvement projects and put his unique touch on everything he did.

"Grampy" loved watching his 5 grandkids in sports and all their activities. In recent years, he loved spending quality time and making memories with his high school sweetheart, Jan. He will be deeply missed by all his family and friends. Survivors include his sons, Jeff (Danielle Smith) Rohm of Bargersville, Todd (Danielle Ebel) of Columbus; grandchildren, Natalie, Dane, Jayda, Cooper, and Connor; sisters, Kathy (Doug) Gorbett of Hanover, Pam (Greg) Ison of Madison; mother, Patty Rohm of Columbus; nieces and nephews, Ryan Gorbett, Karen Gorbett, Adam (Leigh) Korengel, Kate (Dave) Sutter, Chad Ison, and his companion Jan Pazar of Nashville. He was preceded in death by his father, James Rohm.

In keeping with the family's request, his body will be cremated, and a memorial service will be held at 4:00 p.m. Friday at Barkes, Weaver, & Glick Funeral Home on Jonathan Moore Pike with Pastor Craig Thayer officiating. Visitation will be from 2:00 p.m. until the time of service Friday at the funeral home.

Memorial contributions may be made to Brown County State Park. Online condolences and special memories may be shared with Tom's family and a video tribute may be viewed barkesweaverglick.com.

TODAY IN HISTORY

Today's Highlight in History:

On Nov. 15, 1864, during the Civil War, Union forces led by Maj. Gen. William Tecumseh (teh-KUM'-seh) Sherman began their "March to the Sea" from Atlanta; the campaign ended with the capture of Savannah on Dec. 21.

On this date:

In 1777, the Second Continental Congress approved the Articles of Confederation.

In 1806, explorer Zebulon Pike sighted the mountaintop now known as Pikes Peak in present-day Colorado.

In 1937, at the U.S. Capitol, members of the House and Senate met in air-conditioned chambers for the first time.

In 1942, the naval Battle of Guadalcanal ended during World War II with a decisive U.S. victory over Japanese forces.

In 1939, President Franklin D. Roosevelt laid the cornerstone of the Jefferson Memorial in Washington, D.C.

In 1959, four members of the Clutter family of Holcomb, Kansas, were found murdered in their home. (Ex-convicts Richard Hickock and Perry Smith were later convicted of the killings and hanged in a case made famous by the Truman Capote book "In Cold Blood.")

In 1961, former Argentine President Juan Peron, living in exile in Spain, married his third wife, Isabel.

In 1966, the flight of Gemini 12, the final mission of the Gemini program, ended successfully as astronauts James A. Lovell and Edwin "Buzz" Aldrin Jr. splashed down safely in the Atlantic after spending four days in orbit.

In 1969, a quarter of a million protesters staged a peaceful demonstration in Washington against the Vietnam War.

In 1984, Stephanie Fae Beauclair, the infant publicly known as "Baby Fae" who had received a baboon's heart to replace her own congenitally deformed one, died at Loma Linda University Medical Center in California three weeks after the transplant.

In 2003, two Black Hawk helicopters collided and crashed in Iraq; 17 U.S. troops were killed.

In 2019, Roger Stone, a longtime friend and ally of President Donald Trump, was convicted of all seven counts in a federal indictment accusing him of lying to Congress, tampering with a witness and obstructing the House investigation of whether Trump coordinated with Russia during the 2016 campaign. (As Stone was about to begin serving a 40-month prison sentence, Trump commuted the sentence.)

Ten years ago: The Justice Department announced that BP had agreed to plead guilty to a raft of charges in the 2010 Gulf of Mexico oil spill and pay a record $4.5 billion, including nearly $1.3 billion in criminal fines. Four veterans were killed and 13 people injured when a freight train slammed into a parade float carrying wounded warriors and their spouses at a rail crossing in Midland, Texas.

Five years ago: Zimbabwe's military was in control of the country's capital and the state broadcaster and held 93-year-old President Robert Mugabe and his wife under house arrest; the military emphasized that it had not staged a takeover but was instead starting a process to restore the country's democracy. (The military intervention, hugely popular in Zimbabwe, led to impeachment proceedings against Mugabe, who was replaced.) Eight members of a family who were among more than two dozen people killed in a shooting at a small Texas church were mourned at a funeral attended by 3,000 people.

One year ago: President Joe Biden and China's Xi Jinping spoke for more than three hours by video amid mounting tensions in the U.S.-China relationship. Biden signed his hard-fought $1 trillion infrastructure deal into law before a bipartisan, celebratory crowd on the White House lawn. A Connecticut judge found Infowars host and conspiracy theorist Alex Jones liable for damages in lawsuits brought by parents of children killed in the Sandy Hook Elementary School shooting; the parents sued Jones over his claims that the massacre was a hoax. Democratic Sen. Patrick Leahy of Vermont said he wouldn't seek reelection in 2022 to the seat he'd held since 1975.

Today's Birthdays: Singer Petula Clark is 90. Actor Sam Waterston is 82. Classical conductor Daniel Barenboim is 80. Pop singer Frida (ABBA) is 77. Actor Bob Gunton is 77. Former New Mexico Gov. Bill Richardson is 75. Actor Beverly D'Angelo is 71. Director-actor James Widdoes is 69. Rock singer-producer Mitch Easter is 68. News correspondent John Roberts is 66.

TODAY IN HISTORY

Today's Highlight in History:

On Nov. 16, 1914, the newly created Federal Reserve Banks opened in 12 cities.

On this date:

In 1907, Oklahoma became the 46th state of the union.

In 1933, the United States and the Soviet Union established diplomatic relations.

In 1960, Academy Award-winning actor Clark Gable died in Los Angeles at age 59.

In 1961, House Speaker Samuel T. Rayburn died in Bonham, Texas, having served as speaker since 1940 except for two terms.

In 1982, an agreement was announced in the 57th day of a strike by National Football League players.

In 1989, six Jesuit priests, a housekeeper and her daughter were slain by army troops at the University of Central America Jose Simeon Canas in El Salvador.

In 1991, former Louisiana governor Edwin Edwards won a landslide victory in his bid to return to office, defeating State Rep. David Duke, a former Ku Klux Klan leader.

In 2001, investigators found a letter addressed to Democratic Sen. Patrick Leahy of Vermont containing anthrax; it was the second letter bearing the deadly germ known to have been sent to Capitol Hill.

In 2004, President George W. Bush picked National Security Adviser Condoleezza Rice to be his new secretary of state, succeeding Colin Powell.

In 2006, Democrats embraced Nancy Pelosi as the first female House speaker in history, but then selected Steny Hoyer as majority leader against her wishes.

In 2018, a U.S. official said intelligence officials had concluded that Saudi Crown Prince Mohammed bin Salman had ordered the killing of journalist Jamal Khashoggi.

In 2020, President-elect Joe Biden warned of dire consequences if President Donald Trump and his administration continued to refuse to coordinate with his transition team on the coronavirus pandemic and kept blocking briefings on national security policy issues and vaccine plans; Biden told reporters, "More people may die if we don't coordinate."

Ten years ago: Former CIA Director David Petraeus told Congress that classified intelligence showed the Sept. 11, 2012 attack in Benghazi, Libya, that killed U.S. Ambassador Chris Stevens and three other Americans was a terrorist attack, but that the Obama administration withheld the suspected role of al-Qaida affiliates to avoid tipping them off.

Five years ago: Minnesota Democratic Sen. Al Franken became the first member of Congress to be caught up in a wave of allegations of sexual abuse and inappropriate behavior, after a Los Angeles radio anchor accused him of forcibly kissing her and groping her during a 2006 USO tour. (Franken would resign weeks later.) The federal bribery trial of Democratic Sen. Bob Menendez of New Jersey ended with the jury hopelessly deadlocked on all charges. (Federal prosecutors decided not to retry him.) Jose Altuve of the World Champion Houston Astros won the American League Most Valuable Player award; Giancarlo Stanton of the Marlins was the winner in the National League.

One year ago: Hospitals in Michigan and Minnesota reported a wave of COVID-19 patients not seen in months as beds were filled with unvaccinated people and health care leaders warned that staff were being worn down by yet another surge. American journalist Danny Fenster, who spent nearly six months in jail in military-ruled Myanmar, arrived back in the United States after former U.S. diplomat Bill Richardson helped negotiate his release. The U.S. Census Bureau announced that Hartville, Missouri, was now the closest town to the center of U.S. population distribution. Michelle Wu was sworn in as Boston's first woman and first person of color elected mayor in the city's long history.

Today's Birthdays: Journalist Elizabeth Drew is 87. Blues musician W.C. Clark is 83. Actor Joanna Pettet is 80. Actor Steve Railsback is 77. Actor David Leisure is 72. Actor Miguel Sandoval is 71. Actor Marg Helgenberger is 64. Rock musician Mani is 60. Former pro tennis player Zina Garrison is 59. Former MLB All-Star pitcher Dwight Gooden is 58. Jazz singer Diana Krall is 58. Actor Missi Pyle is 50. Rock musician Corey McCormick (Lukas Nelson & Promise of the Real) is 46. Olympic gold medal figure skater Oksana Baiul (ahk-SAH'-nah by-OOL') is 45. Actor Maggie Gyllenhaal is 45. Pop singer Trevor Penick is 43.

OBITUARIES

Wenonah Morrison

Wenonah B. Morrison, 97, of Lexington, Indiana and formerly of Scottsburg, Indiana, died Friday, Nov. 11, 2022, at Thornton Terrace Health Campus in Hanover, Indiana.

She was born on Nov. 30, 1924, in Salem, Indiana, to Edgar and Hazel Bottoroff Trueblood. She married James Ray Morrison and they had four children. She worked at the Charlestown Powder Plant and was a homemaker for much of her life. She enjoyed helping out on the farm, milking cows, gardening, canning vegetables and hosting family gatherings. She was a Christian and a 65-year member of the Kimberlin Creek Baptist Church, where she taught Bible school for many years and was part of a group that sent cards for birthdays, anniversaries and to those dealing with illness. In her spare time, she loved reading, sewing, embroidering and watching birds eat from her bird feeder. In her later years, she worked at Scottsburg Nursing Home for a short time and was always taking care of others, especially helping friends get to their appointments.

Survivors include her children, Ernest Morrison, Michael Morrison, Diana Marshall and Shirley Day, all of Lexington; her grandchildren, Kenny Marshall of Richmond, Indiana, Travis Marshall of Kent, Indiana, Ken Sullivan, Jenny Beverly, Johnny Morrison and Matthew Morrison, all of Lexington, Penny Koehler of Hanover, Indiana, Christopher Morrison of Louisville, Nicholas Morrison of New Albany, Indiana, and Alvin Day; and 24 grandchildren, several great-great grandchildren and several nieces and nephews.

She was preceded in death by her parents; a granddaughter, Kimberly Dawn Sullivan; and four brothers and one sister.

Funeral services will be at 11 a.m. on Wednesday, Nov. 16, at the Kimberlin Creek Baptist Church in Scottsburg, with interment to follow in the Kimberlin Creek Baptist Church Cemetery there. Visitation is 5 p.m. to 8 p.m. on Tuesday, Nov. 15, at the Christensen Hoagland Funeral Home in Scottsburg and 10 a.m. until the time of service on Wednesday at the church.

Memorial contributions may be made to Kimberlin Creek Baptist Church through the funeral home. Online condolences, www.christensenfamilyfuneral.com.

JoAnn Scott

JoAnn Shephard Scott, 66, of Floyds Knobs, Indiana and formerly of Madison, Indiana, died unexpectedly on Saturday, Nov. 5, 2022, at her home in Floyds Knobs.

She was born on Jan. 15, 1956, in Madison, to James E. and Georgia A. Rogers Shephard. She was raised in Madison and graduated from Madison Consolidated High School in 1974. She attended Indiana University Southeast later in life. She was raised in the First Christian Church of Hanover, Indiana, where she had served as pianist. She later was a member of the Scottsville Christian Church in Floyds Knobs where she also served as pianist. She married Ronnie Harold Scott on Sept. 17, 1988, in Hanover. She began her work career at the Madison Jefferson County Public Library and then worked for The Madison Courier in proof reading and graphic composition for nearly 15 years. She and her husband moved to Lexington, Indiana, and later to Jeffersonville, Indiana. She had last worked for Discount Labels in graphic design for 28 years and had resided in Floyds Knobs for the past 25 years. She enjoyed playing the dulcimer and participated in the Corydon Dulcimer Society. She was an IU fan, played cards and Scrabble and loved her Yorkie dog.

Survivors include a brother, James "Bud" Shephard of Middletown, Ohio; a sister, Irene Cozad of Elberta, Alabama; and an aunt, two nephews, a niece, her great nephews and great nieces and other relatives and friends.

She was preceded in death by her parents; her husband of 32 years on July 28, 2020; and a brother, Tom Shephard, in 2019.

Funeral services will be at 2 p.m. on Tuesday, Nov. 15, at the Morgan & Nay Funeral Centre in Madison. Interment will follow in the Salem Cemetery near Cross Plains, Indiana. Visitation is 5 p.m. to 8 p.m. on Monday at the Scottsville Christian Church in Floyds Knobs and 1 p.m. until the time of service on Tuesday at the funeral home.

Memorial contributions may be made to the Humane Society, Scottsville Christian Church or the Salem Cemetery Association through the funeral home or at the church. Online condolences and memorials, www.morgan-nay.com.

automated irrigation system, landscaping and supporting infrastructure on approximately 10 acres of land. Since its inception, the VCGP has provided more than $959 million to establish, expand, improve, operate and maintain 121 cemeteries in which veterans are currently buried. The Indiana Veterans Memorial Cemetery opened in Madison in 1999 and expanded to add 624 columbarium niches in 2013. The cemetery is currently the final resting place for about 2,500 veterans and family members.

"We are proud to continue to assist this cemetery in providing services to the veteran and his or her spouse," said Matthew Quinn, Under Secretary for Memorial Affairs.

National Wreaths Across America Day is Dec. 17 in which the Indiana Veterans Memorial Cemetery will be participating with service at noon at the chapel with family members and volunteers placing wreaths afterwards. "It's a beautiful service if you've never been able to participate," said Burnham, who called it "a very humbling, beautiful service."

Louisville, was arrested on Saturday, Nov. 12, and charged with Child Solicitation and Attempted Sexual Misconduct with a Minor, both Level 4 felonies; and Possession of Paraphernalia, a Class C misdemeanor.

Robb was taken into custody by local police after traveling to Madison to allegedly meet with what he thought was a 14-year-old-female juvenile that he had allegedly engaged in online conversations about sexually explicit acts and then scheduled a meeting.

"A predetermined meeting location was established, Robb showed up as promised, and was taken into custody without incident," said a MPD news release.

Robb is currently located at the Jefferson County Jail without bond where he is awaiting his initial court appearance.

The investigation was led by MPD Det. Shawn Scudder, with assistance by Capt. Season Jackson and Patrol Officer Nichole Midgett. The department has made more than two dozen similar arrests over the past two years in what has been an ongoing investigation resulting in felony convictions.

Steinhardt said the city will continue to provide water while American Queen Voyages will take care of their own trash service.

Madison Mayor Bob Courtney said, "This agreement is a vital part to Madison's tourism industry, bringing in an estimated $250,000 in economic impact per year. We are grateful for this partnership and look forward to welcoming America Queen Voyages and their guests to Madison."

Cindy D'Aoust, president of American Queen Voyages, said, "At American Queen Voyages, we are always looking for ways to deliver unique experiences for our guests and we are thrilled to offer new options and locations on the Ohio River," said . "This partnership is a win-win for everyone. It will further enhance the direct economic impact of tourism in Madison while also offering our guests the chance to deeply discover this charming community for many years to come."

my new role where I hope to create those special connections throughout our district."

McCreary's career with Madison Consolidated Schools began in August 1999 as a Title I interventionist at Deputy, then as a fifth and sixth grade teacher until being hired as building principal in 2015.

In this new role, McCreary will be responsible for working with all staff throughout the district to create engaging learning environments. She will utilize data to understand needs, gaps, and opportunities to further align the curriculum from elementary to secondary. She will also identify opportunities for professional learning to support teachers in providing challenging and rewarding instruction. She will oversee grant funding, state reporting, and delivery of standardized testing and results, and manage the overall forward movement of all curriculum-guided instruction for all grades.

Allman is joining the district as the new Director of Human Resources. For more than a decade, the district has not had a dedicated Human Resources department with the position being embedded within the finance team. "In today's market, we find must ways to actively seek and recruit talent, assess benefits and compensation, and find ways to recognize and celebrate the employees we have," Brown said. "I am very excited about the support our HR team will now be able to give our employees."

Allman has served as Director of Human Resources for the Jennings County School Corporation since 2017 and worked with Brown formerly when Brown was superintendent at Jennings. Prior to that, Allman was executive director for Red Oak Industries (2013-2017) and residential services assistant manager with Centerstone (2004-2013).

Previous organizational changes included promoting Danica Houze to Chief Financial Officer after nine years as corporation treasurer and promoting Tara McKay to assistant to the superintendent. Most recently, McKay served as director of special programs and was principal at Anderson Elementary School prior to that.

"We have made some significant changes in our team over the past few months which were necessary to better align operations and as a result have actually reduced our overall administrative headcount by three positions," Brown said. "These moves have enabled us to fill key positions and round out the restructuring of our district-level, administrative leadership team."

BASKETBALL ROUNDUP

Turnovers doom Shawe in loss at Providence

BY THE COURIER STAFF

Turnovers ruined what was an otherwise strong performance as Shawe lost 40-35 at Providence in girls basketball on Saturday.

The Hilltoppers trailed at every quarter break but outscored Providence in the fourth period but their comeback fell short.

Freshman Audrey Barron scored 13 points and had 10 rebounds to lead Shawe while Allison Knoebel had eight points and Ava Turner scored seven points and had 11 rebounds.

Shawe, now 2-3 on the season, travels to Hauser on Tuesday.

REBELS FALL TO OLDENBURG

Southwestern dropped a 53-49 loss to Oldenburg Academy in girls basketball on Friday.

Ashley Fulton led the Rebels with 22 points while Chloey Leach scored a career-high 20. Claudia Oliver had seven points and Riley Scroggins one.

Southwestern, now 1-2, hosts South Dearborn on Saturday.

HANOVER ROUNDUP

Hanover takes back Victory Bell with win over Franklin

BY THE COURIER STAFF

Hanover College football closed out the season with a 24-3 win over Franklin in the annual Victory Bell game at Franklin on Saturday.

The Panthers collected 452 yards of total offense in the game. Quarterback Matthew Weimer was 26-for-34 passing for 299 yards and a touchdown in the game. Running back Austin Oppel had 144 yards rushing and two scores on 18 attempts and Hunter Eads had six catches for 130 yards and a touchdown.

Hanover ends the season with a 5-5 overall record including 5-2 in the Heartland Collegiate Athletic Conference.

HANOVER WOMEN WIN TWO

Hanover women's basketball opened the season with a pair of wins in the Wheaton Tournament in Wheaton, Illinois.

The Panthers knocked off host Wheaton 53-50 in the opener on Friday then beat Elmhurst 78-55 on Saturday.

Grace Bezold scored 23 points and had nine rebounds to lead Hanover in the win over Wheaton while Katherine Benter had nine points and 10 rebounds.

Maddi Sears scored 17 points to pace the Panthers against Elmhurst. Bezold had 14 points and 10 rebounds and Benter scored 10 points.

Hanover, now 2-0 on the season, competes in the Wittenberg Tournament on Saturday.

PANTHERS RUN IN REGIONAL

Hanover's cross country teams competed in the NCAA Great Lakes Regional in Holland, Michigan, on Saturday.

The women finished 23rd out of 34 teams and the men were 32nd.

Amberleigh Sorensen finished 83rd in 23:21.3 to lead the women. Lauren Todd was 126th in 24:23.0, Sarah Jones was 140th in 24:44.3, Adair Dooley was 173rd overall in 25:48.6 and Hanna Whitney was 177th in 25:53.8.

Former host Russia frozen out as World Cup begins in Qatar

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Four years after Vladimir Putin hosted the World Cup party, Russia is off the guest list.

While the soccer world focuses on the opening game of the World Cup in Qatar on Sunday, Russia will be playing a friendly game in Uzbekistan.

Russia was kicked out of World Cup qualifying after it invaded Ukraine and now can only play friendlies against the few nations prepared to accept its invitations.

The Russian men's national team's only game of 2022 so far was a 2-1 win over Kyrgyzstan in September. Russian clubs are barred from Switzerland County's Halle Archer (23) battles to keep the ball away from Madison's Breck Ralston during Friday's game in Vevay. Madison held off a strong Pacers comeback for a 45-44 win.

Madison dominates offensive boards in win over Switzerland

BY DAVID CAMPBELL

Madison's domiance of the offensive boards helped offset a poor shooting night and allowed the Cubs to escape Vevay with a 45-44 win over Switzerland County in girls basketball on Friday.

Madison hit just two of 16 3-pointers the Cubs attempted in the game and also turned the ball over 18 times. But a 41-21 advantage in rebounds, including 20-5 on the offensive end, allowed the Cubs to score 14 second-chance points and fend off a frantic Switzerland comeback at the end.

It was the second-straight game where Madison's offense was less than stellar, but the Cubs were able to pull out the win in the end.

"I've been worried about this game since Tuesday night. Brooke's so smart. She does a good job and her kids are so smart and play hard," Madison coach Adam Dennis said of Switzerland County coach Brooke Todd. "Our kids did a good job of figuring it out and finding a way. That's what we talked about at halftime. This group has always been really good at that. Even in games that we've lost, they've always come out trying to find a way."

Points were hard to come by for both teams as each struggled to find any flow. As a result, the first three quarters were very low-scoring with the teams tied 17-17 at halftime and Madison leading 29-24 entering the fourth quarter.

The Cubs (2-1) closed the third with three-straight points and opened the fourth with a short 5-2 run to open a 34-26 lead with 6:00 minutes to play, their largest lead of the game. Madison still led 37-31 with just over four minutes to play.

But Switzerland didn't panic and began chipping away, even after leading scorer Halle Archer fouled out. The Pacers cut the margin to three with 35 seconds left and then forced a turnover to get the ball back. Kenzie Taylor then worked her way to the basket for two points to close the gap to one with 26 seconds to go.

Although Switzerland had only five offensive rebounds in the game, they managed two of those on their last possession to keep their chances alive. After Cam Cahall pushed Madison's lead back to three with a pair of free throws with 16 seconds left, Taylor missed a 3-point attempt, but Bri Stow got the board. Stow's putback missed, but Macy Collier grabbed the rebound and put the ball into the net to cut the margin back to three.

But with just over four seconds left and Switzerland out of timeouts, Madison smartly didn't inbound the ball and instead just allowed time to expire to claim the win.

"Our kids have done an outstanding job on the boards in our three games. We've out-rebounded everybody, even Franklin County, who is huge," Dennis said. "Our kids are tough and they crash hard and they do hard things. And we're proud of them for that. Because of that, we've come out with two wins, when we probably didn't hit enough shots to do that."

While Todd was not happy with the loss, she was proud of her team's effort and likes what she has seen from the Pacers so far this season.

"This is our second game of the year and we are showing the composure and sticking to the game plan," Todd said. "It's a one-point game and there's all kinds of scenarios in your mind and things where we have to talk about that again. But there were also a lot of situations that I would say I was excited about. This is our second game so I'm happy."

Cahall scored 15 points and had six rebounds to lead Madison while Alaina Kelley had nine points and Casey Dyer had six points and eight rebounds.

Archer scored 13 points and Collier and Taylor scored 11 each for Switzerland.

On Saturday, Switzerland picked up its second win of the season 45-30 at Henryville.

The Pacers (2-1) trailed 21-19 at halftime but outscored the Hornets 13-0 in the third quarter to take control of the game.

Courtney Higgins had nine points and four rebounds to lead the Pacers while Stow and Taylor scored eight points each. Collier and Maddie Levell scored seven points each.

Madison returns to action on Tuesday when it hosts South Dearborn. The Cubs then host Salem on Saturday.

Switzerland hosts Rising Sun on Friday in the first Ruler of the River matchup of the season.

Suspect caught in shooting of football players

BY SARAH RANKIN
ASSOCIATED PRESS

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. — Police on Monday captured a University of Virginia student suspected of fatally shooting three members of the school's football team as they returned to campus from a field trip.

The violence that also wounded two students erupted near a parking garage and sent the campus into a lockdown that lasted overnight while police searched for the gunman.

Officials got word during a mid-morning news briefing that the suspect, Christopher Darnell Jones Jr., 22, had been arrested.

"Just give me a moment to thank God, breathe a sigh of relief," university Police Chief Timothy Longo Sr. said after learning Jones was in custody.

The shooting happened just after 10:15 p.m. Sunday as a charter bus full of students returned from seeing a play in Washington.

University President Jim Ryan said authorities did not have a "full understanding" of the motive or circumstances surrounding the shooting.

"The entire university community is grieving this morning," a visibly strained Ryan said. "My heart is broken for the victims and their families and for all those who knew and loved them."

Ryan identified the three students who were killed as: Devin Chandler, Lavel Davis Jr. and D'Sean Perry. He said one of the wounded students was hospitalized in critical condition, and the other was in good condition.

The shooting touched off an intense manhunt, with authorities conducting a building-by-building search of the campus while students sheltered in place for more than 12 hours. The lockdown order was lifted late Monday morning.

Police obtained arrest warrants for Jones charging him with three counts of second-degree murder and three counts of using a handgun in the commission of a felony, Longo said.

Jones had once played on the football team, but he had not been a member of the team for at least a year, Longo said.

Jones came to the attention of the university's threat assessment team this fall after a person unaffiliated with the school reported a remark Jones apparently made about possessing a gun, Longo said.

No threat was reported in conjunction with the concern about the weapon, but officials looked into it, following up with Jones' roommate.

Longo also said Jones had been involved in a "hazing investigation of some sort." He said he did not have all the facts and circumstances of that case, though he said the probe was closed after witnesses failed to cooperate.

In addition, officials learned about a prior incident outside Charlottesville involving a weapons violation, Longo said. That incident was not reported to the university as it should have been, he said.

Eva Surovell, the editor in chief of the student newspaper, The Cavalier Daily, said that after students received an alert about an active shooter late Sunday night, she ran to the parking garage, but saw that it was blocked off by police. When she went to a nearby intersection, she was told to go shelter in place.

"A police officer told me that the shooter was nearby, and I needed to return home as soon as possible," she said.

She waited with other reporters, hoping to get additional details, then returned to her room to start working on the story. The gravity of the situation sunk in.

"My generation is certainly one that's grown up with generalized gun violence, but that doesn't make it any easier when it's your own community," she said.

Elsewhere, police in Moscow, Idaho, were investigating the deaths of four University of Idaho students found Sunday in a home near the campus.

Officers discovered the deaths when they responded to a report of an unconscious person, authorities said.

Ryan, interim coach Saturday rally Colts to win

BY MARK ANDERSON
AP SPORTS WRITER

LAS VEGAS — Jeff Saturday joked that the Indianapolis Colts will start calling zone-read plays for 37-year-old quarterback Matt Ryan.

Ryan has never been known for his swift feet, but his career-best, 39-yard scramble to convert a third-and-3 in the fourth quarter led to his winning touchdown pass two plays later.

He completed a 35-yard pass to Parris Campbell with 5:07 left Sunday to give the Colts a 25-20 victory over the Las Vegas Raiders and Saturday — an ESPN analyst just a week ago — his first victory as the interim coach.

It capped an unusual week when the Colts fired coach Frank Reich and replaced him with Saturday, whose only prior coaching experience was at a Georgia high school. Saturday then handed play-calling to Parks Frazier, who had never been in that position. Finally, Saturday sat Sam Ehlinger, who started the past two games, and put Ryan back in the starting lineup.

"Jeff, he's the thing that drives this thing," Colts owner Jim Irsay said. "That's the reason in bringing him in. I knew he had those abilities to come in and be a great leader and take over right away, because of all the help he had around him, because he knew to delegate. He, obviously, is thrilled with the victory, but in this league you're on your next battle."

Ryan had been battling a shoulder injury and wasn't sure if he was ready to return. But Saturday said Ryan put together such a strong practice session Friday that it made the decision easy.

Then Ryan, who completed 21 of 28 passes for 222 yards, justified that decision in leading the Colts (4-5-1) to the victory.

Ryan also benefited from a strong running game led by Jonathan Taylor, who rushed for 147 yards, including a 66-yard touchdown. It was Taylor's first 100-yard game since the season opener against the Houston Texans, when he rushed for 161 yards.

The Raiders, however, led 20-19 when the Colts faced a third-and-3 in the fourth quarter. Ryan dropped back to pass, but the Raiders covered his options to the left where the Indianapolis receivers ran their routes. He then saw the right side wide open, and Ryan took off for Las Vegas' 36-yard line.

"We were at a point in the game where we needed to make plays," Ryan said. "We didn't need to press or anything like that, but when you get your chance, you've got to make it."

Two plays later, Ryan found Campbell for the winning TD.

The Raiders then drove to Indianapolis' 16, but two defensive plays turned away Las Vegas. On third down, linebacker Bobby Okereke broke up a pass in the end zone that was in the hands of tight end Foster Moreau. Then cornerback Stephon Gilmore knocked away a pass for Davante Adams that secured the victory for the Colts and set off a celebration on their sideline.

"In truth, I felt very at peace," Saturday said. "I felt like we had a very good plan in place. I felt like all the men who I had talked about empowering and giving them the ability to do what they could do exceptionally well, they all stepped up.

"It's an incredible day. It's one win but, heck, they're hard to get in this NFL."

Two weeks ago, Saturday in his analyst role tweeted that the "Raiders look horrible" during their 24-0 loss to the New Orleans Saints, and those words clearly didn't come back to bite him.

Adams was instrumental in helping the Raiders repeatedly rally in the second half, in which the lead changed four times. He caught six passes for 102 yards and a touchdown in the final 30 minutes, giving him nine receptions for 126 yards for the game.

Derek Carr completed 24 of 38 passes for 248 yards and two TDs.

The Raiders lost their third game in a row, and were booed off the field, with all three defeats coming to teams with losing records. This latest loss figures to increase scrutiny on first-year coach Josh McDaniels, who took over a team that made the playoffs last season, but is 2-7 .

"I know where I stand," said Carr, who became emotional as he spoke. "I love the silver and black. I'm going to give it everything I can every time I go out there, and I can't speak for everybody, for every man what's going on in their head. But I can tell you what's going on in my head, and I'm going to give it all that I can every single time."

SEYMOUR HONORED BY RAIDERS

Pro Football Hall of Fame Richard Seymour's Hall of Fame plaque was unveiled at Allegiant Stadium before the game, his official induction into the Raiders' hall. Seymour, a three-time All-Pro defensive lineman, played for the Oakland Raiders from 2009-12 and starred for the New England Patriots from 2001-08. He was inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame this year.

KEY INJURIES

Raiders linebacker Denzel Perryman, who was limited in practice with rib and hip injuries, was placed on the inactive list before the game. Colts defensive end Kwity Paye suffered an ankle injury.

Pacers use big 4th quarter to beat Raptors 118-104

BY CHRIS GOFF
ASSOCIATED PRESS

INDIANAPOLIS — Buddy Hield scored 22 points, Myles Turner had 19 points and 10 rebounds, and the Indiana Pacers used a dominant fourth quarter to beat the Toronto Raptors 118-104 on Saturday night.

Tyrese Haliburton shook off a 3-for-14 shooting night with 15 assists for the Pacers, who outscored the Raptors 36-14 in the final 12 minutes.

"The game changed when our fight changed," Indiana coach Rick Carlisle said. "Every distraction you can imagine, we were coming up with some reason to complain about something in the first half. It was ugly. It's not the culture we are building. The second half looked like us. It's a win that feels good."

Jalen Smith finished with 16 points and rookie Bennedict Mathurin had 15 for Indiana.

"I thought we got enough stops that we could run," Haliburton said. "Law of averages, they'll fall. We just stayed with it and played with better aggression in the second half."

O.G. Anunoby scored 26 points for the short-handed Raptors, who led 90-82 after three quarters before the Pacers blew by them as Toronto matched its lowest-scoring quarter of the season.

Missing the injured Pascal Siakam and the ill Fred VanVleet, Toronto shot 6 for 21 in the final period, missing eight of nine 3-point attempts.

The surprising Pacers made 19 3-pointers to get back to .500.

"You're never going to win a game when you get beat 19-7 at the 3-point line," Raptors coach Nick Nurse said. "A lot of those things happened in transition. A lot of them happened in the second half. We weren't getting back enough in transition."

After Toronto went ahead by 15 in the first minute of the third quarter, the Pacers reeled off a 20-6 run to get back in it. The Raptors eventually drew a third foul on Turner, forcing him to sit the final four minutes, and carried an eight-point lead into the final period.

Hield made all three shots in the fourth, including both 3-point attempts. Haliburton made one with his feet just in front of the Pacers' logo at midcourt to give Indiana a 107-101 lead with 3:17 to go.

"We had a really bad fourth quarter," Nurse said. "Just everything went their way, and nothing went our way."

Haliburton ended up with eight points and six rebounds for Indiana, which shot 50% from the field to overcome 21 turnovers.

Toronto shot 39%.

TIP-INS

Raptors: Siakam, a third-team All-NBA selection last season when he averaged 22.8 points, 8.5 rebounds and 5.3 assists, missed his fifth straight contest due to a strained right adductor muscle. VanVleet, averaging 18.4 points and 6.8 assists, had an illness unrelated to COVID-19. ... Chris Boucher had 19 points and seven boards.

Pacers: The 39 points Toronto scored in the second quarter were the most the Pacers had allowed in any quarter this year. ... Indiana finished with a 61-49 edge in rebounding. ... Four bench players had at least eight points.

the Champions League and the women's national team was removed from the European Championship.

Monday marked one year since the last competitive game of the Russian men's national team, a 1-0 loss at Croatia on a swampy, waterlogged field. That meant Russia didn't qualify for the World Cup directly and went into the playoffs. By the time those came around, Russia had invaded Ukraine.

Russia's scheduled opponent, Poland, refused to travel to Moscow to play, as did the other teams in the playoff bracket. That raised the prospect of Russia qualifying for the World Cup by default. In legal battles at the Court of Arbitration for Sport, FIFA argued that letting Russia compete could cause more boycotts and "irreparable and chaotic" damage to its tournament. CAS let the ban stand.

Games against Iran and Bosnia-Herzegovina were planned for November but neither is taking place. Instead, Russia is touring two former Soviet nations to play Tajikistan and Uzbekistan. The planned Iran game would have given Russia the credibility of facing a team which has qualified for the World Cup. Ukraine accuses Russia of using Iranian drones to attack its cities, something Russia denies. Ukraine asked FIFA to remove Iran from the tournament, though FIFA has not done so. The president of the Russian soccer federation told local media that the game with Iran could be held in Qatar shortly before the World Cup. That could have been seen as a snub to FIFA. No date or venue was ever confirmed before Russia announced the Tajikistan and Uzbekistan games instead.

Putin endorsed plans for a friendly against Bosnia-Herzegovina in September, saying that "sport should unite, not divide, people." That game was postponed indefinitely by the Bosnian soccer federation last month, after team captain Edin Džeko and the national players' union opposed the game and expressed support for Ukraine. Russia still has friends in the World Cup host nation. Qatar's emir thanked Russia in October for its "great support" for organizing the World Cup when he met Putin for talks at a summit in Kazakhstan.

"We are also doing everything we can in terms of transferring the experience of preparing for the World Cup," the Russian president said.

What exactly Russia's support for Qatar involves is unclear, but Qatari officials have shown interest in the tight security around Russian games in 2018. For the first time at a World Cup, it included a mandatory "Fan ID" scheme. A ticket on its own wasn't enough to enter the stadium. Fans provided personal data to get an ID card needed to pass stadium security, which also doubled as a visa to enter the country. The same is true of Qatar's similar Hayya Card program.

Grandmother's offer of housing might backfire

AMY DICKINSON
ASK AMY

Dear Amy: I am the grandmother of two wonderful kids — a 7-year-old girl and 3-year-old boy.

My son-in-law has been overly critical of my granddaughter since she was four, and now is starting to treat the younger child the same. My daughter stood up for her children three years ago and they separated for six months, mainly because of his inability to be more patient with the children. (There were some other issues.) She and the kids lived with me at that time.

They've been to counseling off and on for a couple of years.

His behavior is mean, calling them idiots, and he often uses foul language.

He tries to teach them patience and manners by yelling and holds the older child to a standard that he doesn't reach himself.

My daughter doesn't want to hear my opinion anymore. She knows he won't change and she would have to kick him out again, so she pretends it's not that bad.

They are having financial problems and I want to offer to have them move in with me.

I have plenty of room but am worried about not being able to get along with my son-in-law all the time.

I know that I would probably take on most of the childcare and housekeeping, but I want what's best for the kids and my daughter.

Should I make the offer? — Sad Grandma

Dear Grandma: Your daughter has asked you not to engage so thoroughly in her marriage. Moving this family into your household would place you directly in the middle of it.

If your daughter perceives your legitimate concern for their welfare as judgment and pressure, she might respond by defensively digging in her heels.

Rejecting help is the strange dynamic that is sometimes part of an abuse cycle.

It is possible, too, that the counseling this couple receives is helping to reform your son-in-law's behavior.

Estrangement doubles down on divorce

AMY DICKINSON
ASK AMY

Dear Amy: My wife's nephew "Chris" is going through a divorce.

Chris and his wife "Jan" have two children.

Jan has always had a positive relationship with our family.

Their divorce has been a cordial parting of ways, but my wife's family now wishes to ghost Jan.

I feel bad ghosting Jan, but I risk alienating my wife and her family by being cordial.

I feel like calling her to express my sadness that I can't talk to her, and that I hope she understands, but even that would seem risky.

I don't think being estranged for no good reason is healthy, and I feel bad about it.

Common sense tells me to stay out of it, but can you say something that will make me feel not so bad about it? — Middled

Dear Middled: Unfortunately, I can't help you to feel better about your wife's clan's choice to deliberately initiate an estrangement.

If they succeed, "Chris'" children will be forced to continually split their time and attention, not only between their two parents, but now extending into other generations.

For instance, they will learn that they won't be able to tell one set of grandparents about experiences with the other set. They will train themselves never to mention their mother in front of their father's family.

Furthermore, if your wife's family would punish you for simply being kind and cordial to "Jan," this reflects extremely poorly on all of them.

"Circling the wagons" following a break-up is expected. Families will show loyalty, and in my opinion, this is mainly demonstrating supportive behavior during a challenging time.

I certainly hope that Chris will actively discourage this "ghosting," however.

Nor should you play along.

You could contact her to say that you're sorry that this break-up is happening, that you always enjoyed her presence in the family, and that you hope she and the children do well through the process.

ASTROLOGY

ARIES (March 21-April 19) — Make the most of what you have and conserve your resources now. This isn't the time to gamble with your money or with your emotions. Use your energies wisely in constructive activities for the best success.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) — Don't rock the boat. Strong opposition or criticism of your plans is an indicator that you should rethink your strategies. Count on close friends and advisers to guide you by giving you the benefit of their experience.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) — Be cautious about expressing your opinions. You may be on a different wavelength than everyone else. Volunteering your point of view may rub somebody the wrong way, even if you have the very best intentions.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) — Spinning the wheel of fortune won't likely solve your problems; this is likely a poor time to change your plans. You might be enthusiastic and eager to get on with a job but could lose traction if you must conform to the rules.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) — You can use your leadership skills and logic to sidestep criticism but coping with authority figures and enduring endless scrutiny could ultimately become a thorn in your side. Don't make crucial decisions or try to fight back today.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) — You may need to work harder and smarter than usual to meet high expectations. Focus on making financial affairs run smoothly and display your wisdom and calm if or when other people are argumentative.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) — Check in with yourself to be sure your generosity and tolerance are from the heart, that you're not just trying to please, or expecting specific reciprocation. Play hard to get — don't get involved with a casual hookup until the timing is better.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21) — Make sure that the only toes you step on are your own. Be mindful of the sensitive feelings of those you love. You may feel triggered if someone in charge is too controlling or judgmental — breathe your way through.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) — All work and no play makes for a dull day. You may be forced to work with people who seem excessively picky or needy. If you are a good sport, it will be easier to manage everyone's feelings constructively.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) — Be moderate and make it solid and strong; going to extremes to save a few dollars may backfire. Even if it takes a little longer, take your time to do a job properly so you avoid criticism and conflicts.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) — Fight off any urge to make mountains out of the tiniest molehills. Don't let minor distractions derail you from completing your duties. Be patient and wait for better timing to put a new project into motion.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20) — You may feel misunderstood and might be challenged to keep your cool in heated disagreements. Alleviate tensions by discussing your feelings with family members and place emphasis on finding constructive resolutions.

ASTROLOGY

ARIES (March 21-April 19) — This is a poor time to start any new project or take on any additional financial responsibilities like a car loan or house payment. Fulfill promises as agreed and show others that you are reliable and worthy of trust.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) — The spirit is willing, but the situation is weak. You may have huge ambitions but could encounter red tape and obstacles that thwart your progress. Hold off on starting anything new until the end of the week.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) — You risk falling off if you're living on the edge, do what you can to shore things up.. You can make a good first impression by being tolerant of other people's viewpoints. Wait until tensions subside to make important decisions.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) — Always test assumptions. Some problems can be overcome through sheer willpower — with others you'll need to ask for help. You should realize that someone you deal with may be operating with a strategic business plan.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) — Watch your step. Some people may seem to take anything you say or do the wrong way. Share your ideas diplomatically rather than giving orders. Don't skirt the rules or ignore regulations as someone could report you.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) — If you are already busy you don't need more obligations or responsibilities. This isn't a good time to volunteer for more duties that may overwhelm you. If you are in too much of a hurry, you might offend a loved one.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) — Nobody wins a stalemate; a far better solution would be to find common ground. Keep your promises but keep your plans quiet until you have all the facts. Do not rush into making important decisions or changes.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21) — Everyone has challenges they struggle with, but that does not mean you can get away with being a jerk. You can earn someone's respect and put others at ease once you admit that you were in the wrong or made a mistake.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) — Determine if there is an actual conflict, then resolve disagreements by arriving at a compromise. Someone might blow a difference of opinion out of proportion; be cautious about how you express it.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) — Small things can add up. Clip coupons and look for discounts, but do not make major changes or investments today. Continue to hone your plans with passion and purpose even if others aren't quite ready yet.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) — Play it safe. Do not ignore the rules or take shortcuts. Pay attention to normal responsibilities and any problems that may arise at home. You shouldn't ignore anything that needs your attention or must be fixed.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20) — Listen for the subtext because some people may not be honest or aboveboard. Ask questions rather than assuming you understand everything about what is going on. Avoid anything whatsoever that is ethically in the gray area.

Vanderbilt stuns Kentucky to end 26-game streak

BY STEVE MCCLAIN
ASSOCIATED PRESS

LEXINGTON, Ky. — Mike Wright ran 59 yards for a touchdown and completed an 8-yard touchdown pass to Will Sheppard with 32 seconds left for a 24-21 win over Kentucky Saturday, snapping a 26-game Southeastern Conference losing streak.

Wright was named the Commodores' starting quarterback to start the season but was benched following a 45-25 loss to Wake Forest September 10, Freshman AJ Swann started the last six games but was ruled out against Kentucky due to an injury.

"You got a bunch of guys that are fighting," Vanderbilt coach Clark Lea said. "We're building a program, and building a program's hard. It takes people that are aligned, doing the right things the right way. And that's what these guys are doing. I'm glad they got rewarded today."

Wright ran for 126 yards and a touchdown, and threw for 184 yards and another touchdown. Ray Davis added 126 yards rushing and a touchdown for the Commodores.

"There's going to be a lot to clean up, but we like to learn from wins," Lea said. "I'm proud of Mike. Mike's had a tough year, personally a tough year. But he's fought through that and stayed with his teammates and prepared every week. He's made some big plays for us this season. He came out with a big run at the end to connect with Will Sheperd and I thought he did some really nice things to keep us in the game early."

Kentucky (6-4, 3-4) appeared to have survived the Vandy effort after Chris Rodriguez twice gave the Wildcats a lead, scoring from the 5 for a 15-14 lead, then racing 72 yards for a touchdown to make it 21-17 with 5:03 left in the game.

Vandy's game-winning drive appeared stalled, but Octavious Oxendine's personal foul wiped out a Tyrell Ajian interception. Given new life, Wright completed a 40-yard pass to Quincy Skinner Jr. to the Kentucky 9 on fourth-and-11 to set up the winning score.

"You give them credit," Kentucky coach Mark Stoops said. "I have been there. I know how hard they've worked. It's a good moment for them. It's hard for me to put my finger on (one) thing. Disappointed with the way things have gone. I think everyone is. For whatever reason I'm not getting it done with this team."

Vanderbilt's last conference win was Oct. 19, 2019 over Missouri 21-14.

THE TAKEAWAY

Vanderbilt: The Commodores defense, which had given up a conference-worst 36.8 points per game, was stellar outside of the two touchdown scores. The ended up with four sacks and six tackles for loss to go with an interception on the final play of the game. CJ Taylor led the 'Dores defense with six tackles, a sack and the interception. That pressure allowed a Vanderbilt defense surrendering 314 yards a game passing to hold Will Levis to just 109 yards on 11-of-23 completions.

Kentucky: The Wildcats' inability to get touchdowns in the red zone in the first half led to the 7-6 halftime deficit. Twice Kentucky drove inside Vandy's 20 and another time inside the 30 to come away with just two field goals of 47 and 27 yards and blocked field goal from 37 yards. The second field goal completed a 66-yard, 15-play drive that stalled at the Vanderbilt 9.

Reeves, Fredrick lead No. 4 Kentucky past Duquesne 77-52

LEXINGTON, Ky. — Antonio Reeves scored 18 points, CJ Fredrick added 14 and No. 4 Kentucky ran away from Duquesne 77-52 on Friday night.

The Wildcats (2-0) played their second consecutive game without Oscar Tshiebwe, last year's consensus national player of the year, who's recovering from a procedure on his right knee last month. Coach John Calipari said after the game that Tshiebwe was ahead of schedule but it wasn't clear whether he would be available Tuesday night against Michigan State in Indianapolis.

Daimion Collins also missed his second consecutive game because of the recent death of his father in Texas. The Wildcats welcomed back point guard Sahvir Wheeler from a right leg injury, and the senior had 11 points, 11 assists and six rebounds in 27 minutes, helping Kentucky's fast pace against the Dukes (1-1).

"Sahvir did good," Calipari said. "He played more minutes than I wanted to play him, but I think our guards are going to play 20 to 25, 27 minutes, depending on who plays well."

Reeves and Fredrick again set the tone with impressive perimeter shooting to follow up their debuts on Monday night against Howard, when Reeves scored 22 points and Fredrick had 20.

Reeves and Fredrick each shot 5 of 9 from the field against Duquesne. Reeves made 4 of 6 from long range while Fredrick was 4 of 7 as Kentucky finished 11 of 19 from behind the arc.

The Wildcats have made 22 of 43 3s through two games.

"We have a lot of guys making shots right now," Jacob Toppin said.

Ugonna Onyenso added nine points, while Toppin and Cason Wallace each had eight. All eight Kentucky players scored at least four points. Onyenso had 10 rebounds as the Wildcats won on the glass 46-35.

Jimmy Clark III scored 11 points and Austin Rotroff had eight for Duquesne, which was coming off a 91-63 home win over Montana. The Dukes shot 30%, improving from a 24% first half.

After shooting 50% to lead 38-22 at halftime, Kentucky started the second half cold. Duquesne took advantage to get within 38-29 before the Wildcats mounted several small runs, including eight unanswered points over 1:20 for a 53-35 lead. They weren't seriously threatened again.

Friday's game opened the Tribute Classic, a round-robin tournament that includes South Carolina State and North Florida.

RECOGNITION

Michael McGuire, who got attention for attending Kentucky's Blue-White scrimmage with his family while covered in coal dust fresh off a shift in an eastern Kentucky mine, entered the court during a second-half timeout to spell out the "Y" in Kentucky.

Calipari posted a tweet that went viral about McGuire's presence at last month's benefit game for victims of this summer's floods in the region. The two met soon after with Calipari pledging to do something special, noting his grandfather was a miner.

BIG PICTURE

Duquesne: The Dukes are breaking in 10 first-year players, and the growing pains showed when it came to scoring. They twice missed eight consecutive shots and had another stretch of six misses.

"We're just not quite ready to play at that caliber yet with all the newness that we have," coach Keith Dambrot said. "We just haven't been together long enough to win a game like that. You have to know when to score. You have to know when to slow it down."

Kentucky: The backcourt continued its strong play with Wheeler complementing Reeves and Fredrick. Cason Wallace added eight points and four assists. Everybody got a chance to contribute, especially the 6-11 Onyenso, a late signee who made 4 of 7 from the field. That kind of balance should make Calipari even happier.

No. 13 Indiana uses 3s to blow out Bethune-Cookman 101-49

BY MICHAEL MAROT
ASSOCIATED PRESS

BLOOMINGTON — Indiana coach Mike Woodson finally took advantage of a chance to beat up on his former teammate and longtime friend Reggie Theus on Thursday night.

Together, they celebrated a bigger moment than any game — the Garrett family's return to Bloomington.

Trayce Jackson-Davis scored 21 points to lead the No. 13 Indiana Hoosiers to a 101-49 rout of Bethune-Cookman, shortly after assistant coach Billy Garrett Jr. celebrated his grandfather, Bill Garrett, breaking the Big Ten's color barrier in December 1948.

Jackson-Davis played just 21 minutes and the Hoosiers made 10 3-pointers as they topped the 100-point mark.

"How about that?" said Theus, now in his third season as the Wildcats coach. "We all went out and stood in front of the statue and took pictures, and I knew as soon as I saw his big head, I knew it was Billy's head. History is an amazing thing."

The game was not.

Jackson-Davis played just 21 minutes and the Hoosiers made 10 3-pointers as they topped the 100-point mark. The unbeaten Hoosiers have won twice by a total of 87 points and are now 10-0 all-time against Southwestern Athletic Conference foes.

Joe French led Bethune Cookman (0-2) with 11 points and Marcus Garrett, a 6-foot-2 redshirt senior guard, had 10 points.

Certainly, Billy Garrett Jr. would have preferred a better result. The eldest Garrett was Indiana's 1947 Mr. Basketball Award winner, a college All-American who went on to play for the Harlem Globetrotters and a high school coach who won one Indiana state high school title at Indianapolis Crispus Attucks, the same school Oscar Robertson attended.

The Wildcats took their only lead of the game, 10-9, on Dylan Robertson's alley-oop dunk five minutes into the game.

Miller Kopp answered with the first of his four 3s to give Indiana the lead while spurring a 20-2 run. Indiana closed the half on a 15-4 spurt to make it 49-23 and sealed the outcome with a 15-2 run early in the second half.

"This team is competitive, just telling you," Woodson said.

BIG PICTURE

Bethune-Cookman: The Wildcats have opened against two Big Ten schools, and it hasn't been pretty. The schedule gets easier, but producing more than last season's nine wins will require substantial improvement.

Indiana: The Hoosiers' most glaring problem in recent seasons has been 3-point struggles. If they replicate this performance against better opposition, Indiana could meet — or exceed — the preseason hype.

POLL IMPLICATIONS

There have been few surprises this first week, including Indiana. While the lopsided margins won't hurt their ranking, it's probably not going to help much, either.

FRIENDLY FOES

Theus and Woodson have known each other since the mid-1980s when the two first-round draft picks became teammates with the Kansas City/Sacramento King and played 195 games together.

They chose different coaching paths.

Theus began his career at the college level, went to the NBA for three seasons then returned to the college ranks. Woodson spent 25 years coaching at the pro level before taking his first college job.

HURRICANE WATCH

While the Wildcats were playing, folks on their campus in Daytona Beach, Florida, were dealing with another hurricane that slammed Florida's coastline. Theus said the school has scheduled a men's-women's doubleheader Monday as a result of the storm.

"The coastline has been really beat up, but didn't go too far inland," Theus said. "But it's the second one in a month and our university infrastructure isn't too great, so it can be pretty devastating."

No. 2 Ohio State loses Williams in rout

BY MITCH STACY
ASSOCIATED PRESS

COLUMBUS, Ohio — Ohio State won big on Saturday but may have lost another star running back to an injury.

Miyan Williams has been carrying the running game with TreVeyon Henderson injured and already had 147 yards and a touchdown when he had to be carted to the locker room after being tackled late in the first half of No. 2 Ohio State's 56-14 rout of Indiana.

He returned to the sideline in the second half in street clothes with crutches.

"We'll have to see, but it didn't look like, based on what we saw here in the locker room, that it was going to be something that was going to be really long term," coach Ryan Day said. "We'll see how he feels overnight, and then you're hoping to get (Henderson) back for next week."

Freshman Dallan Hayden stepped into the No. 1 back role in the second half and carried 19 times for 102 yards and touchdown. Receiver Xavier Johnson lined up as a back and ripped off a 71-yard touchdown on his only carry.

Day said both are possibilities if Henderson and Williams can't go next week, but the Buckeyes will be at a disadvantage if both experienced backs are still on the shelf for the showdown with No. 3 Michigan in two weeks.

C.J. Stroud threw five touchdown passes as the Buckeyes (10-0, 7-0 Big Ten, No. 2 CFP) got back on track after struggling to beat Northwestern on a windy day the previous week. They'd already piled up 377 yards by the time Williams left the game and finished with 662.

Stroud, who passed for a season-low 76 yards against Northwestern, was 17 for 28 for 297 yards against the Hoosiers (3-7, 1-6), throwing two touchdown passes to tight end Cade Stover and one each to Emeka Egbuka, Marvin Harrison Jr. and Kamryn Babb.

Indiana's starting quarterback Connor Bazelak, who returned after sitting out last week's loss to Penn State with an injury, didn't last long. After the Hoosiers went three-and-out on their first three possessions, Bazelak was benched in favor of Dexter Williams II, who threw for two touchdowns, their only scores of the day.

"I didn't think we fit into what's close to being acceptable," Indiana coach Tom Allen said.

THE TAKEAWAY

Indiana: The Hoosiers' disappointing season continues with another rout. Allen committed to Bazelak as the starting QB early in the week, but Williams might be his No. 1 guy now.

Ohio State: The health of the two star running backs will be the big issue going forward as the Buckeyes travel to Maryland next week and host Michigan on the Saturday after Thanksgiving. Given how little the program will disclose about injuries, it may remain murky. On the bright side, there's nothing wrong with the Buckeyes' passing game.

BIG ONE FOR BABB

The biggest celebration of the afternoon for the Buckeyes came in the fourth quarter when Stroud hooked up with Babb for an 8-yard touchdown, the first in the collegiate career of the fifth-year receiver.

Babb has endured four knee surgeries since 2017. He was so respected that his teammates voted him a captain in 2021 even though he was unable to play.

It was Stroud who went to Day late in the game and suggested they try to get Babb his first TD.

"I didn't want to mess it up. I was nervous," Stroud said. "I saw the coverage that we got, and I saw the leverage that we had on the corner, and I was like, 'Oh man, I better not mess this up for my guy."

Babb said: "I don't know if words can really describe it, but if I had to say a word it's 'thankful."

POLL IMPLICATIONS

The Buckeyes should stay put.

Indiana: At Michigan State on Saturday.

Ohio State: At Maryland on Saturday.

Marlins promote O'Connor to president

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Miami Marlins promoted Caroline O'Connor to president of business operations on Monday, making them the first U.S. major sports franchise to have women serving simultaneously as president and general manager. The Marlins made history by hiring Kim Ng as GM in November 2020; two years later, they've made another significant move.

O'Connell, Durham lead Purdue past No. 21 Illinois

BY GAVIN GOOD
ASSOCIATED PRESS

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. — Aidan O'Connell and Purdue made a muddled mess of the Big Ten West and the Boilermakers are in decent shape to emerge from it as champions now.

O'Connell passed for 237 yards and three scores, two to Payne Durham, and Purdue beat No. 21 Illinois 31-24 on Saturday.

The win gives the Boilermakers (6-4, 4-3 Big Ten) a crucial head-to-head tiebreaker over the Illini (7-3, 4-3 Big Ten), who were firmly in control until losing their last two games.

The Boilermakers finish the season with favorable matchups against Northwestern and at Indiana.

After Iowa and Minnesota also won Saturday, Illinois, Purdue, the Hawkeyes and Gophers are all 4-3 atop the division.

O'Connell and Purdue coach Jeff Brohm each played down the implications of the win, but recognized what it meant as the Boilermakers clinched a bowl appearance for the fourth time in six years.

"We're not blind to those things," O'Connell said. "We know we're bowl eligible, we know we're still in the hunt (in the division). I think the one game at a time thing is more so for us to stay focused, for energy and to realize it means nothing if you don't win the next game."

Purdue scored on three straight drives to take a 28-21 lead on Durham's 13-yard touchdown reception with 13:13 left, finishing a drive that was aided by three Illinois penalties.

"I kind of ran around in the back of the end zone, Aidan had to scramble a little bit and it seemed like we just kind of made eye contact," Durham said. "I think I looked up, telling him to throw it up. He trusted me, he threw a beautiful ball and I just went up there and grabbed it for him."

The Boilermakers gave O'Connell plenty of time and excellent protection all day, holding a highly rated Illinois defense zero sacks.

O'Connell completed 25 of 40 attempts and threw one interception. Devin Mockobee added 106 yards and a touchdown on 28 carries. DeVito struggled against pressure and threw his first interception since a Sept. 10 win over Virginia. He completed 18 of 32 passes for 201 yards and a score.
